The World's Best Team

They are still "The Grade," Edmonton's welcome to the wanderers is a real one, an expression of appreciation of, and of confidence in the best women's basketball team that was ever set together. Defeat has not cost these sky-high girls a single reprieve from the admiration of their home town. On the contrary, it has aroused a public interest in the team such as could not be sustained while they were defeating every rival that came on the floor. That interest will show itself in a more loyal backing, financial and moral, than was possible or necessary under ordinary circumstances.

Edmonton does not admit that the Grads have ceased to be the world's best team. They were beaten by themselves, not by their opponents. They undertook to do the impossible, and met the inevitable result. No team can cross the continent, playing every night, without going down to defeat, in order to meet another competitor. It is "natural" for them to do so. It was natural for the Grads to do so. It was natural for them to do so.

Weakness is the issue when lives are spent in the elevating case of the summing up of sadness.

Why is a Smuggler?

The speculator committee of Parliament which is investigating the smuggling business has been getting some information that is of interest in more than one direction. Manufacturers and dealers have testified that the contraband trade includes commodities ranging all the way from cheese-clots to cigarettes and from prison-made clothing to auto parts. Some well-known Canadian manufacturers have actually been put out of business by this clandestine competition, and that others have been driven to the brink of failure.

From which it would appear that a tariff does not protect, save in degree, and that the degree depends upon the kind of goods. Some classes very well bring a trader a profit, while others will receive no return. Some dealers who buy from Canada may be secured against foreign rivalry by a high schedule of duties. But commodities of small bulk—and of comparatively high value—can be brought in by "ways" that are dark and by tricks that are vain"; and that seemingly has been done on a large scale.

Twenty-eight members, who started the probe, in view of mounting customs officials and Ministers of responsible duty, have succeeded at least in convincing a protective policy in so far as it relates to goods of this character. It is obvious that the higher the tariff the more must be the importation of smuggled goods. The more there is to be imported, the higher the tariff must be high enough and half the people in the country would have to be employed as "spotters" to keep the other half from bringing in goods without paying duty.

The People Must Rule.

The Liberals of Alberta are to send delegates to Edmonton on Wednesday to select a leader for the party in provincial affairs. It is in keeping with Liberal custom to have a leader chosen before a convention, but this time the convention should have been called for the purpose, and called without undue delay. On the retirement of Mr. Mitchell the Liberal members of the Legislature were constrained to choose one of their number to act as House Leader for the balance of the session. Their choice fell upon Mr. Bowes, a man well known by ability and experience, and who might well be selected as the permanent party leader. The members did not, however, take upon themselves the responsibility of making other than a temporary appointment. Instead, they left to the party, as represented, to duly elect delegates to make the selection.

In that they were acting strictly in accord with Liberal doctrine and practice. The Liberal party gave representative government to Canada, and cannot do other than sponsor that principle in the government of its own organization. The members of a legislature may without inconsistency nominate a party leader and call upon their supporters to support him. The present Premier of the Province and Leader of the U.F.A. political party was chosen by that method. In the Liberal party, organization must proceed from the bottom up, and the party platform can be maintained just as the party platform must be constructed by delegates in convention assembled, and not handed down by an executive or a leader.

That a convention has been called is in itself proof of a failure of the party to maintain the leadership of the basic principles upon which the party was founded. The circumstances were such that reason could have been found for waiving the rule and choosing a party head without loss of time. Mr. Mitchell retired in the midst of a session. The new election was to be held the following day, only a few weeks away. It was highly important that the public should know without delay who would become Premier if the party was returned to power. The tactical advantages were all in favor of immediate action, without waiting to convene a convention. Those advantages were sacrificed in order that there might be no breach of the doctrine that the public have a right to name their leaders.

THE DAWDLING AGE

Take a boy of thirteen years.
When he's dawdling age appears.
And he's a dawdler, too.
All that once you used to be,
But now he's a dawdler, too.
Seems as weary, dreary, and through.

Then when morning comes you'd sit
On his shoulder, and say, "Hurry, hurry!"
While your mother called below,
"Hurry! You'll be late you know."

Now he dawdles, just as I.
Dawdles, dawdles, dawdles, he.
Pumping with his clothes and seems
To be getting dressed up.

Puts on stockings instead up.

Sleepily he moves about;

As if he had just waked up.

Says he never will be dressed.

"Hurry, son, and you goes to state."
"Hurry, hurry, you'll be late."

"Hurry! You'll be late you know!"

Now he dawdles, just as I.

In the way he moves about.

Long he lingers, and then off he goes.

Long he lingers, and then off he goes.

But I chuckle at all.

All is well, and all is well.

"Was there ever," off she said,

"such a little sleepy-head?"

"Yes, there is, my mother low."

"You married years ago?"

Now he dawdles, just as I.

The BUILDING BOOM Has Started in Edmonton

The building activity already evidenced by the permits issued for the first three months of 1926 show, without a doubt, that this is to be a banner year. Other indications also point to this. When the busy tourist season promised brings visitors from all over the continent to the city, these building operations in progress will be a splendid advertisement for us.

Many Beautiful Homes Will Be Erected in Edmonton This Year---Conditions Now Ideal

If you are contemplating building this year, you can make no mistake by beginning early. This is to be a splendid year for the Edmonton area. Everything points to this. The oil activity will bring thousands of people with money to spend into this district and the tourist traffic will be very heavy, we are assured. Many of the houses for which permits have been issued, will undoubtedly be sold to these visitors who will remain to become tenants.

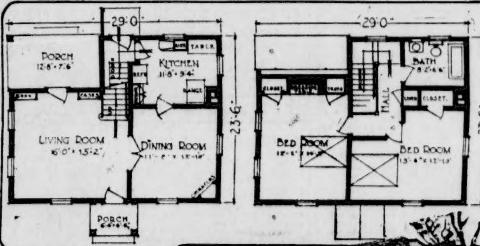

Real estate prices are now low and it is a most advantageous time to build, as materials and labor are lower now than they will be later. The records show that a great many beautiful new homes will be erected. These will be enhanced in value as time passes and the city grows. One can make no mistake by buying land and building now.

This page is a directory for the home-builder, and he may secure valuable advice by consulting with the firms appearing here. Small houses will be at a premium this spring and longer, so when the market may increase shown in the volume of building business for the first three months of the year will be easily absorbed in this period. Small, attractive houses are increasingly popular. Below is shown a type of the home that will be readily sold during the forthcoming year.

MANY PLAYERS CLAIM MAJOR BALL HAS LOST SOME OF ITS "LIFE"; FEW HOME-RUNS MADE

Lack of Circuit Blows at Start of Season Makes Managers and Players Believe That Some of "Hop" Has Been Taken From Ball

NEW YORK, April 20.—Decrease in the number of early season home runs leads several major league managers and players to believe that some of the "rabbit" has been taken out of the ball.

They do not believe that the theory of better throwing causes a reduction of 50 per cent in slugging. In the first two weeks of the season, the New York major leagues batters scored 20 home runs in the American League and five in the National, and so far there have been only nine this year, nine in the National and one in the American.

Some American league men see themselves vindicated in the figures for the stand they took that a pitcher would not be made more effective by using rain on their hands.

Now, however, the players are taking advantage of the modification of the rulebook, have been rubber-coated, and the results are that they have been outhit, 9 to 1.

Frank Murphy, manager of the Yankees, one of the experts who claims that the ball is slower, and the others, the Boston Red Sox, the Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals, of Babe Ruth and some of the other stars, say that the ball is the right size, that the slow ball is best for the game.

John J. Maravich, veteran Brooklyn shortstop, who has been with the team since 1914, agrees with his brilliant fielding, expressing the opinion that some of the hop has been taken from the ball.

Major league officials never have attempted to make any move to end to suit the cause for slugging better than Babe Ruth, and they don't any longer, because the ball has been changed again.

Tommy MacKenzie of the L. T. Thompson team upset the Mackmen 2-1. The national bidding on the part of the Cardinals.

Benjamin with a lot of slick, city talk when both he and his mother were interviewed, and now it is intimated that the young man is about to forget maternal influence and go to the States to seek his fortune.

He has decided to take the match at least $20,000 in cash and a large amount of his chartered money.

Hickard seldom talks out of turn, but probably he is good to his word.

C.N.R. WORKERS DENY REPORT OF MEETING

Recent "Effort to Paint Officials of C.I.P. as Red Element"

TAKE EXCEPTION TO "PROPAGANDA"

Are Behind Movement to Put Five-Man Ticket in Field

While members of the Canadian Labor Party are behind the movement to put a five-man ticket in the field at the forthcoming provincial general election to contest the Edmonton seats, they deny that any declaration of war, or any statement of war, has been declared by their organization with any other element of the Labor party.

Their nominating convention will be held May 4 as stated in the Bulletin last Thursday, declared a spokesman for the C. N. R. shop workers on Monday evening.

That is the story, which purported to be an account of the meeting held when President Lakeman made none of the statements attributed to him.

Although another speaker did say that we should run a five-man ticket, he did not say it was a declaration of war.

Neither the name of Alderman James East nor of Alderman Phillips nor of any other member of the Labor party was mentioned in the story upon which the reporter based his statement.

Members of the delegation declared that they knew the origin of the story which came to the editor of the Bulletin from an official of the C. I. P., the original author of the story, who claimed that he could not say whether the Labor movement at heart if he participated in spreading propaganda.

They said that the effort made to paint officials of the C. I. P. as a "Red" element seemed to be directed at the Labor party inside the Labor party, but that real strife and trouble were not to be expected in spreading that "propaganda" declared one of the C. N. R. shop's committee.

All local unions affiliated with the council voted to go to full nominations, the whole to be considered at the nominating convention.
